

BTC Welding Rodeo ignites for two days of competition

By MARGARET BIKMAN — THE BELLINGHAM HERALD

The 11th Annual Bellingham Technical College Welding Rodeo competition is a free; family-friendly event featuring food; displays; vendors; raffles and; of course; welding. You can even try welding yourself.
FILE — THE BELLINGHAM HERALD

The 11th Annual Bellingham Technical College Welding Rodeo competition is a free, family-friendly event featuring food, displays, vendors, raffles and, of course, welding. You can even try welding yourself.

This year's theme is "Into the Garden." The competition begins 8 a.m. Friday, May 18, with amateur teams diving into the scrap heap. On Saturday, May 19, professional teams dive in. Welders test their skills and creativity to design and build a sculpture in eight hours.

The sculptures are sold at auction at the end of each day. Details: weldingrodeo.btc.ctc.edu.