BTC & SHELL HOST ENERGY CAREERS PREP NIGHT WITH CAREER & TRAINING INFORMATION

FREE EVENT — Community members, students and those interested in learning about jobs in the energy industry are invited to join Bellingham Technical College for Energy Careers Prep Night Tuesday, April 23, from 5:30–8 p.m. in BTC's Settlemyer Hall.

Presented by Shell Oil Company and BTC, this event is an excellent opportunity to network with professionals in the energy industry, learn about jobs in the industry from those who perform them, and tour BTC programs that can train job-seekers for a new career.

Hear from industry leaders as they share tips for job seekers:

- Career outlook in the oil and gas industry
- Scholarship opportunities and recruitment efforts
- Inside look at hiring practices and company culture
- Resume-building and interviewing tips
- Keynote speaker: Shirley Yap, General Manager of Shell Puget Sound Refinery
- Panel discussion with industry professionals

Find out which BTC programs can train you for high-paying jobs in the energy industry:

- Tour program labs and speak with faculty from BTC's programs in Process Technology, Instrumentation & Control Technology, Electrician, Machining, Industrial Maintenance & Mechatronics, Engineering Technology: Electronics Specialization, and Welding.
- Get information on and funding sources to help you pay for college, internships and veteran support services
- Talk to Admissions representatives about what you need to get started at BTC

This event is open to all. FREE food and prize drawings!

RSVP is required. Sign up now: www.btc.edu/energynight

This free event presented by Bellingham Technical College and Shell Oil Company.
