COMMUNITY INVITED TO EXPLORE BTC PROGRAMS AT RESCHEDULED INFO SESSION NIGHTS APRIL 29–MAY 2

FREE EVENTS — Community members who are interested in training for a new career or pursuing their education are invited to learn more about Bellingham Technical College's (BTC) programs and certificates with a week of information sessions April 29–May 2.

The events had previously been set for February but had to be canceled and rescheduled due to the snowy weather.

Each event starts at 5:30 p.m. in BTC's G Building with a brief introduction of the evening's featured programs and information about how to get started at BTC, followed by opportunities to tour two different programs, visit their labs and meet their instructors. The event on Thursday, May 2, will start at Perry Center for Fisheries & Aquaculture Sciences, which houses BTC's Fisheries & Aquaculture Sciences program.

These info session nights are free and open to the community. Prospective students and their family members are welcome to attend. Admissions specialists will be on hand throughout the evening to answer questions about how to get started at BTC.
